This Is The Way It Was

This monthly photo column by Ken Murdock features railroad scenes of the past, a look back into railroading's history.

This month takes us to several very colorful Georgia short lines, all photographed by the Sanborn brothers of Lakeland, about 1950. This photo captures Sylvania Central 4-6-0 #103 spotting cars at customer's sidings in Sylvania in southeast Georgia. This 15 mile line, from Sylvania to Rocky Ford, was controlled by the Central of Georgia and was abandoned in 1954. - Lakeland Public Library, Sanborn collection

This southeast Georgia short line is the Louisville & Wadley and their 4-6-0 #42 has stopped at their Wadley depot with its mixed train. Wadley was an early capital of Georgia. This 10 mile line was also owned by the Central of Georgia. It was sold in 1961 and was abandoned by 1971. The L&W interchanged with the C of G and the Wadley Southern in Wadley. - Lakeland Public Library, Sanborn collection

This photo finds Georgia Northern's railcar #527 kicking up dust as it rolls to a stop in an unidentified town, possibly Moultrie. This 67.5 mile southwest Georgia short line ran from Boston, north thru Moultrie, to Albany and was one of several southwest Georgia short lines owned by Pidcock family. The line was sold to the Southern Railway in 1966. Lakeland Public Library, Sanborn collection

February 2016 Museum Report

By Ken Murdock, Museum Curator

On Sunday, January 31st, the Winter Garden Heritage Foundation held their annual Volunteer Appreciation event in their new building and recognized the volunteer of the year for the WG Heritage Museum and the Railroad Museum. Al Sharp was named the volunteer of the year for the Railroad Museum. Congratulations Al!!! It was well deserved!

We have had some very productive Wednesday workdays during this month with several things being done other than inventory. I think the inventory team was looking for a temporary change of pace. Jerry Honetor has been making good progress in relocating the power supply and timer for the Plant City interlocking signal from the southeast corner to the northeast corner inside the Roper Building. He plans to completely rewiring the signal and install the devices necessary to have it change aspects periodically. Al Sharp and I installed wheels on the showcase, recently donated by Tom Langford, and I refinished the wood perimeter that supports the glass top. I also ordered a 4' LED light fixture for this showcase and Al and I installed it.

Then it was back to the grind on inventory. We have been fortunate to have Jarrod Reynolds helping us on the inventory until he landed a better paying part time job. Ginger Honetor has been faithfully cleaning the inside and outside of our showcases. We have been complemented by several visitors on how clean and well organized our showcase were, so people do notice! Ross Marvin usually comes by on most Wednesdays to round up more items to sell on our eBay store. Ross has already been very successful in turning many of our surplus items, just gathering dust, into much needed cash for our construction project. It looks like our first month of sales will exceed $1000.00!

Have you noticed the model trains mounted on wood bases and displayed around the museum as being "For Sale"? Well, David Rhea came up with this idea and has had William Walter making the wood bases. David and William have made twelve of these out of donated locomotives and cars and ten have been sold, depending on size, from two to twenty dollars each!! This was a great idea and great way to turn our junk into dollars!! Thank you David and William!!

On Saturday, February 13, we had an extremely successful museum workday with 10 members participating. They included Phil Cross, Allen Quinn, Jarrod Reynolds, Al Sharp, Jerry & Ginger Honetor, Joe Lehmann, Irv Lipscomb, Ross Marvin and your curator.

Phil was there early and took care of cleaning up on the outside and the housekeeping chores on the inside. Allen, Al, Jarrod and I installed one crossing signal pole on the foundation poured several months ago on the northeast end of the caboose and then poured another concrete foundation on the southeast end of the caboose for another crossing signal. These two crossing signals were donated to us almost a year ago by society member Randall Thornton.

Jerry Honetor, Jarrod and Al pulled seven new wires thru the conduit from the Roper Building to the Plant City interlocking signal, getting the hardest part on this project completed. Joe worked on our two printers, getting one to work in the present library and the other in the Roper Building. This required three computers to connect to them in both locations. Ginger cleaned showcases and Irv filed maps and documents. Ross worked on things related to our eBay Store, getting more items ready to advertise.

Former Central Florida Chapter NRHS Member John Richeson Passes Away

By Ken Murdock
February 22, 2016

I received a phone call today from Bill Cogswell who informed me that John Richeson, a long time member of our organization, had passed away last week. John had suffered with Alzheimer's for a number of years but still came to our meetings when Al Pfeiffer lived in Daytona and would bring both John and Bill Cogswell. A number of John's photographs were published in articles that I wrote for Lines South magazine and many of his photos are in our photo archives.

Note From Society Supporter Russell Tedder

Phil, thanks for the videos. I always enjoy them.

Regarding the Lindberg Special, I know what I am about to say has nothing to do with this particular train. However, prior to 1927, when the Atlantic Coast Line built its Perry Cutoff to close a 35 mile gap between Monticello, Fla., and Perry, Fla., the ACL ran a passenger train from Jacksonville to Perry, Florida. It was originally the Jacksonville & Southwestern built by the Cummer & Sons Lumber Company, and which ran from Jacksonville, through Baldwin (to the north of the SAL) and on down through Lake Butler to High Springs and then to Newberry and four miles beyond to a station named Anderson. It was at that point in 1904 when the ACL bought the line and upgraded it to ACL standards, and also ACL continued building this line through Trenton, Wilcox, and Cross City to Perry, where it arrived in 1908. I don't know exactly how many years or when it started and stopped, but during the period 1908-1927 when the Cutoff was operated (I believe it was at least in the 20s) this passenger train from Jacksonville to Perry each way daily was called the Lindbergh.

Just a little trivia. I don't recall where I got this info, but it is probably somewhere in my ACL files.

Thanks,
Russell Tedder

After lunch several of us returned to inventory work and Ginger hosted the museum with Jarrod assisting her. We had a large number of visitors. Speaking of visitors, we had 8,576 visitors that signed the book last year. That is a new record and we know that many more were there that didn't sign in, so the actual total is probably well over 10,000.

We had a very productive day and many things were accomplished. We never seem to run out of things needing our attention. Thanks to each of you who came out and helped to make our museum even better!
